At The Heights of Harmony, we're striving to achieve a host of sustainability objectives, including increasing the extent of tree canopy cover, creating habitats for birds and wildlife, ensuring durable materials are used, and moderating microclimate to enhance homeowner comfort.

Lakefront paradise

Oshawa's waterfront along Lake Ontario is a stunning natural paradise of green space, with forests, trails, sandy beaches and wildlife reserves, all connected by the Waterfront Trail. That's partly due to the gradual rollout of the City of Oshawa's 2011 Waterfront Master Plan, which envisioned an "Urban Waterfront Jewel connected, sustainable, multifunctional, accessible..."

Here are four of the top waterfront parks in Oshawa, all ideal for day trips:

1

Lakefront Park West

Get out and play ball at any of the eight neatly laid-out baseball diamonds in the corner of this park, or explore along the Waterfront Trail. By bike or on foot, you'll appreciate the outstanding views of the lake, and being surrounded by naturalized landscapes of trees and wildflowers.

3

Lakeview Park

Encompassing the fantastic Lakeview Beach, a pier that extends out into the lake, the Oshawa Museum, playgrounds and picnic areas, this is a very popular park for Oshawa residents. It connects by trail to the massive Oshawa Valleylands Conservation Area, which follows Oshawa Creek down to the Harbour.

2

Pumphouse Marsh Wildlife Reserve

A small, 17-acre coastal wetland, this Reserve is a "Provincially Significant" marsh and barrier beach. You can hike or cycle along the paved trail beneath the towering evergreen trees, look out over the marsh to spot water birds, and stroll along the sandy beach.

4

McLaughlin Bay Wildlife Reserve

Just past the Port of Oshawa is this 300-acre wetlands Reserve, which extends all the way down from Highway 401 to the lake. With trails and observation platforms, this wilderness treasure is known for its significant biodiversity and role as an important staging area for migratory birds.

Learning curve

A short drive from The Heights of Harmony, you'll find a variety of top tier educational institutions in Oshawa. Focusing on excellence in academics, and collaboration to nurture the talents of students, these schools are geared to preparing children for modern life.
